Subject: Email Scam re. Japanese Tsunami falsely purporting to be sent by Red Cross

I've been advised that there is an email purporting to have been sent by the British Red Cross seeking donations in aid of the Japanese Tsunami Appeal. This is totally false and the Red Cross have stated that any money donated is being fraudulently diverted to a false account.

This is potentially a very dangerous scam - and attached to the email is a form asking you to submit personal identification details including credit card, bank details, passport or driving licence, mother's maiden name, date of birth, etc.

For more information see the following page on the British Red Cross website:
